DRIFTS DOWN STREAM IN PATH OF FERRY

Exciting Scene in Hudson River Before She Was Caught

New York. May 21 .- The giant new liner Vaterland, on her maiden trip from Hamburg, Germany, broke away from the tugs which were conveying her to her dock to-day and drifted helplessly across the river.

When the Vaterland was headed for her high pier more than fifty tugs had her in charge, but as the bow neared the pier a strong ebb tide caught her astern and began to swing her around directly for a nearby wooden pier. The hawsers on the tugs let go, and the biggest liner affoat drifted down stream directly in the path of the Lackawanna ferry boats It is believed that no damage resulted.

FOREST FIRES.

Many in Vermont Are Caused by Carelessness.

During recent years much more attention is being paid by the several states to the important matter of forest fire prevention, and by all reports, Vermont is not lagging in this most important matter. This year, the owners of woodlands and the railroads are much more willing, than in former years, to cooperate with the state in forest fire pre-The railroads, which through Vermont, have consented to allow a state inspector to inspect all spark arresters on their locomotives. Many of these have been inspected this spring, and whenever defects were found the tailroad officials were very prompt in

Movement Started in Police Circle Expanded as People Heard of It

A presentation somewhat out of the ordinary was made at a little home on John street this morning, when a gift, typifying the esteem of several hundred people for the late George K. Carle and heart-felt good wishes for the widow and children of the Barre policeman who died on February 28, last, from exposure to zero temperature following service at a fire in the Vermont Fruit Store on February 12, was delivered to the Carle family. The gift was $562.75.
The bearer of the gift was Deputy

Sheriff H. J. Slayton, who also had been the collector of the entire amount during the past few weeks. The tender of the sum and its acceptance occupied but a short time, largely because of the fact overcome by the gift that she couldn't find many words to express her appreciation.
